

	SURVEY ON SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS IN HIGHER EDUCATION	ACADEMIC YEAR ____/____
---	--	-----------------------------------

This survey aims to understand the characteristics of new students at the Escola Superior de Saúde Atlântica, who have special educational needs. It is extremely important for providing knowledge and raising awareness about this reality, and for developing sustainable measures that improve support and inclusion for all students.

Special educational needs refer to significant limitations in activity and participation in various life domains, resulting in continuous difficulties in communication, learning, mobility, autonomy, interpersonal relationships, and social participation, due to permanent functional and structural changes.

Students with permanent or long-term illnesses associated with aggressive treatments such as radiotherapy, chemotherapy, and others are also included in this category.
